

“Corruption is the number one problem facing Africa; not natural calamity, not the AIDS virus. This is the number one issue and there’s no way round it”.

Bono: NBC News, Meet the Press

nomorecorruption ● ● ● ● period

Corruption is universally condemned, across all jurisdictions, cultures and religions. The elimination of corruption is what the vast majority of us want and yet it remains a $2.5 trillion problem. By all accounts the situation is getting more bleak, especially as global economic conditions worsen. Those that can least afford it are most at risk as humanitarian relief programs are now threatened.

Our mission at nomorecorruption Inc. is to support and advance the global battle against corruption by enabling corporations and the communities they serve to co-operate easily and effectively. By building coalitions between businesses, governments, NGOs and local communities, we make the fight against corruption much more effective. We will do this primarily through information and education, enabled by the most effective web-based technology.

Objectives

- To develop measures that will give corporations and governments the resources to
  - Train government officials at all levels
  - Sponsor local training initiatives in specific countries in which the target companies do business
  - Train managers and employees in anti-bribery and anti-corruption
  - Train vendors, joint venture partners and contractors
- To encourage very frank dialogue between businesses of all sizes, government agencies, local communities and NGOs
- To provide low-cost or no-cost information and training to communities throughout the world through corporate sponsorship, aimed at shining a light on bad practice and encouraging good behavior
- To use the best local experts and other local resources in developing training content
- To collect data that will help attitudes and understanding, with the aim of changing behaviors

So what can you do? You can help by supporting nomorecorruption Inc. We are actively seeking corporations and countries to pilot the NMC model. Please contact us at the email address below or by phone at the numbers listed on the next page.

The need to act is urgent. More than ever, lives are at stake. No battle can be won overnight but we must begin now.

Changing behavior and increasing transparency through effective training
